

AFRICA INTERNATIONAL MISSIONS

Postcards from Africa

Roger & Martha Dickson

The production and distribution of the African Chronicles begins at the offices of Africa International Missions with the writing of each monthly issue by Roger E. Dickson.

Transparencies are printed out, and then taken to the print shop for layout. From the layout of the transparencies, plates are burned for the press.

We have been operating this press for over 15 years. Chronicles are printed for both letter and bundle distribution. The electronic edition goes out as E-BOOKS.

Once the African Chronicles come off the press, they then go to folding for envelopes and packaging in boxes to be shipped to distribution centers worldwide.

POSTALIZING

ADDRESSING

ENVELOPE STUFFING

From the mailing list, each envelope is addressed, and then postage is added. Once postalized, each envelope is stuffed with four Chronicles.

The printed edition is distributed to individuals through letters. Mail bags of Chronicles are sent to distribution centers throughout the world. Thousands go out as E-BOOKS.
